834 (Paspalum Dilatatum.) One of the most valuable per 834 (Paspalum Dilatatum.) One of the most valuable nermanent basture grasses in the South. Comes nearer growing year-round than any other grass. Cultivation readily talls it. Makes its fastest growth on heavy or moist bottomland, but gives satisfactory results on dry hill lands, and will even grow in burnt-over timber land. It stoss washes and gullies. Withstands continued drought remarkably well. We know of no better grass to withstand flood conditions on lowlands. Light freezes do not injure this grass. Due to its tult formation and compactness of growth, it will choke out Johnson Grass and undesirable weeds.

Combines well with Bermuda and Carpet Grasses, and once started in mixtures keeps a satisfactory balance with other crops. Lespedeza grows well with Dallis Grass mixtures, also White Dutch, Alsike, Hop, Bur, Black Medic and Persian Clover, It will stand more drought than Bermuda. Plantings are Black Mode and Persian Cheer. It will stand more drought than Bernatin. Place I will stand summer and early fall, and in the spring commencing in January. Broadcast 10 to 15 lbs, per acre if sown alone. Reuter offers both Louisiana-grown and imported seed. Reuter offers both Louisiana-grown and imported seed. HELP WIN THE WAR!

Dear Friend:

In the gigantic struggle which now encircles almost all of the civilized world, the importance of food is paramount. The old addage "an army marches on its stomach" is as true today as it ever was. Without a properly balanced diet no soldier in the field, or for that matter, no man or woman working in a munition factory can give his best.

Millions of trained farm workers have been drafted into the armed forces and war factories as well. As a result, commercial production of vegetables is being hampered considerably. Furthermore, the problem of transportation is becoming more serious every day. To relieve this condition it is indeed the patriotic duty of every American with a suitable plot of ground to grow enough health-giving, vitamin-rich vegetables for his own family needs. Every "Victory Garden" planted and cultivated will require less transportation of food and make it possible to use transportation for the war effort. It will mean less wear on truck tires, less use of man-power and what is more important to every home-owner, it will mean the expenditure of less money for food. What you save by growing your own food, you can profitably invest in War Stamps and Bonds.

Join the ever-growing number of Victory gardeners and help win the war! Sincerely Yours, Reuter Seed Company, Inc.

840A, ITALIAN OR WINTER RYE GRASS

You should sow liberally of this famous quick hay and winter pasture grass. The seed cost is so reasonable. A bag (100 lbs.) will easily plant three acres. American Rye Grass is deep green in color and grows 2 to 3 feet tall. Provides continuous grazing from mid-winter until June. Furnishes rich and palatable feed and plenty of it. Sheep, cattle, hogs, horses and poultry relish it. It supplies proteins, minerals and vitamins so badly needed by growing stock. Stands a lot of pasturing and even when grazed to the ground makes rapid renewed growth as soon as given an opportunity. Withstands most severe winters perfectly and if allowed to go to seed, will resead itself. However, the seed cost is so small, you can readily afford to plant it every year. Little soil preparation is necessary. No plowing and covering is essential, as with oats and the like. Simply sow the seed and rake in. On compact soils loosen the ground with a rake or harrow, then sow the seed broadcast and lightly harrow in if convenient. Many times seed scattered on top the ground will give good results. The seed germinates readily with sufficient moisture. In pasture mixtures it does well with Crimson Clover, Lespedeza, or other grasses and clovers. Best planting months are Sept., Oct. and Nov. Helps to solve the winter pasture problem. American Rye Grass has a wide range of soil adaptability. Makes a better growth than most grasses on lands of low fertility. Drainage is desirable, but it has a reputation as a wet land grass. Reuter offers the finest seed produced in Oregon—purity 99% or better—germination 90% or better.

Prices: Not prepaid: 10 lbs. $1.00; 100 lbs. $8.00; 500 lbs. $38.75; 1,000 lbs. $75.00.

EXPERIMENT STATIONS -Recommend

The State Department of Agriculture of Louisiana has issued this unqualified report about the use of Rye Grass for winter and spring pastures: "If used in the pasture, it should, in a normal season, provide winter and spring grazing from November until June, or up until the hot weather of summer. There is no reason why it should not be extremely valuable in pastures for winter no reason why it should not be extremely valuable in pastures for winter and early spring grazing."

The largest dairy farms in the South are planting Rye Grass. It furnishes sufficient grazing to give April and May production in February and March. There is no other grass that we know of that will provide grazing during this period and even the earliest clovers do not come on until the grazing season of Rye Grass is well advanced. The unusual merit of this grand grass is now widely recognized and it is rapidly climbing to the top as our most popular winter pasture grass.
